Re grant of Rs 2500/- for the construction of a Convalescent Home for Ex-tuberculosis patients in Krishnarajapuram road

In continuation of my letter of even number dated 25-11-1946 on the above subject, I have the honour to forward in original the letter along with the blue print of the said Home received from the Collector, C & M Station, furnishing all the details called for in your letter of the 19th November 1946

Office of the Collector,
C & M Station, Bangalore,
dated the 30th Novr ,'46

To Safi Darashah, Esq , B A ,
The Municipal Commissioner,
Bangalore City

Dear Mr Darashah,

I am directed by Mr Jayarajan to thank you for your letter of the 22nd and the information contained therein

In this connection I have to point out in answer to your querries the following -

(1) The total cost of construction will depend upon the completion of the scheme As you will see from the plan and elevation in the blue print accompanying this letter the completed scheme will be one central building as an administrative and vocational block with on each side supplementary buildings also to be used as workshops The plan of the two latter is not shown It is contemplated at the beginning to make this vocational block as shown in the plan perspective and back elevation and the cost of this would amount to about Rs 17,000/- On the same plan are shown the married quarters on the left with a perspective plan and back elevation designed to carry a family with as much segregation as possible and this will cost about Rs 6,300/-

There is also shown a perspective and plan of the smallest type of married quarters the cost of which would be about Rs 2,400/-

On the right side of the plan will be shown the single quarters in blocks of four rooms but all under a common roof and the cost of the block as shown would be about Rs 9,400/- In addition there is one plan of a single quarter which in elevation would be similar to that of the small type married quarters with the exception of the one small lavatory being omitted and this would cost about Rs 1470/-

Therefore, the cost in total would depend entirely upon the number of married and single quarters provided which would be in multiples of the above although it is also proposed on the ground of economy to utilise Nissen huts also in the initial stage as such huts would cost unerected a matter of Rs 882/- each

(2) The total sum aimed at in the initial stage is Rs 1,50,000/- and you will observe that this would give from the figures in para 1 an adequate if preliminary colony with a certain amount of money left over for the running expenses

The plans are shown in the accompanying blue print and have been made following visits to Krishnapalle and also full consideration of wishes expressed by the Committee The estimates are based on a square footage dependant upon the sunshade portion and the actual interior quarters

(3) The tenders for construction will be called for and copies of working drawings with full specification will be provided so that lump sum figures may be obtained

(4) The tenders received will be inspected by the Executive Engineer of the C & M Municipality together with the Information Officer to the Collector who has all the qualifications for this work

(5) Contributions should be paid to the Collector as President

(6) Although outside your municipal limits it is emphasised that this home is not alone for residents of the C & M Station particularly as retrocession has been kept in mind and while naturally the City and C & M might have first claim it is expected that this benefit will be utilised by the whole of Mysore as it is also in the nature of a Victory celebration

Yours sincerely,

John Hendley
